WHITWELL'S JAUNDICE
TEMPERANCE BITTERS
OR THE PEOPLE'S BEST REMEDY

FOR the cure of Jaundice, Fever and Ague, Debility, Worms, etc etc

TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS.

Do you wish to promote the health of your customers? Do you wish to confirm their good habits, and afford them the highest satisfaction?

Do you wish to make fifty per cent on your investment without the smallest risk? Then purchase at least one box of Whitwell's Temperance Bitters

Evidence of the good qualities of this compound

Dr Hooper, in his Medical Dictionary, in allusion to a prominent ingredient in these Bitters, says—"It has been found very effectual in restoring digestion, expelling flatulence, and removing costiveness, so common in sedentary life

Dr Lettsom, the most scientific physician in Europe, says on the same page—"In hysterical affections, it affords more vigor and relief than any other article before known"

Dr Bigelow, in the sequel to the U S Pharmacopea says, page 311 in allusion to the same article "It is one of the most valuable of the Bitter Tonics It has an invigorating effect on the stomach and bowels, and is peculiarly serviceable in dyspepsia"

These Bitters contain as large a proportion of the Extracts of

as any bitters in the United States and rank immeasurably above all others in existence for creating an appetite reviving the spirits, and strengthening the whole system

Why will you pay a high price for an article, when you can have every medicine suitable for such diseases to be found in the four quarters of the globe, for one quarter of the price Orders have been received from nearly all sections of the United States, from British America and the West-Indies This is not surprising for to prefer any inflammatory Alcoholic compound to this mild and pleasant decoction, would prove the consumers far behind the age in good taste, good habits and even civilization.

☞ Dealers will find it for their interest to purchase directly from the proprietors

Sold at the low price of 25 cents per pint bottle or $2 per dozen

HOMŒPATHY! HOMŒPATHY!!

IMPOSITION
Citizens of Bangor & vicinity
Take Notice.

☞ THERE is hardly an instance on record where a man of any enterprise has commenced in business and with great exertion and expense has become universally known but some one whose intellect being so obtuse that he cannot invent an original idea of his own, has attempted to impose upon the public by adopting the same name, or raising a sign of similar character. This mode of imposition deserves the severest reprimand from the mouth of every honest man.

I have been led to these remarks by noticing numerous advertisements in Bangor papers headed

Main Pillar of OAK HALL.

I would most respectfully inform the citizens of Bangor and vicinity that I have no branch whatever of my establishment nor agency in any part of the United States. The above advertiser also states that he has withdrawn himself from OAK HALL, Boston. To that I can only say that my servant driver of Oak Hall Express, in Boston and vicinity, has withdrawn himself and I have substituted a Gentleman of Color in his place and with his new livery suit and beautiful steed is the admiration of all beholders.

☞ Issued this day from Oak Hall, City of Boston, 22d of July, 1844.

SAND'S SARSAPARILLA.

FOR the removal and permanent cure of all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, or habit of the system:

Scrofula, or King's Evil, Rheumatism, Obstinate Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples, or Postiles on the Face Blotches, Biles, Chronic Sore Eyes Ring Worm or Tetter, Scald Head, Enlargement and Pain of the Bones and Joints, Stubborn Ulcers, Syphilitic Symptoms, Sciatica, or Lumbago, and Diseases arising from an injudicious use of Mercury, Ascites, or Dropsy, Exposure or Imprudence in Life Also, Chronic Constitutional Disorders will be removed by this Preparation.

If there be a pleasure on earth which superior beings cannot enjoy, and one which they might almost envy men the possession of, it is the power of relieving pain How consoling then is the consciousness of having been the instrument of rescuing thousands from misery, to those who possess it What an amount of suffering has been relieved, and what a still greater amount of suffering can be prevented by the use of Sand's Sarsaparilla The unfortunate victim of hereditary disease, with swollen glands, contracted sinews, and bones half carious, has been restored to health and vigor The Scrofulous patient, covered with ulcers, loathsome to himself, and to his attendants, has been made whole Hundreds of persons, who had groaned hopelessly for years under cutaneous and glandular disorders, chronic rheumatism, and many other complaints springing from a derangement of the secretive organs, and the circulation, have been raised as it were from the rack of disease, and now with regenerated constitutions, gladly testify to the efficacy of this inestimable preparation

Copy of a letter received from Mrs Asenath M Phillips of Norwich, Conn. after she had been using the medicine about eight days. Comment on such evidence is unnecessary NORWICH, Oct 6, 1842.

Messrs Sands Gentlemen, It is with the greatest pleasure, and a heart overflowing with gratitude, I sit down to address you, to inform you of my health, which is rapidly improving every day Those tormenting pains in my limbs which have followed me for nineteen years and six months, which were taking my life by inches, tortured and racked to that degree I could not sleep any more than a person wrapped in embers, or with some living creature biting the flesh Not one single night have I slept all night during the whole of that time and wonderful to tell, on the 26th of October, I went to bed at 10 o'clock, and slept sweet sleep till morning, and have continued to ever since, which is five nights the best sleep which I ever enjoyed in my life The sores on my limbs are growing smaller, and on one side there appears to be new flesh growing. The water is going off by degrees from my head to my feet It is about two days since it reached my feet, so as to leave with the on my skin Nothing ever before reached my case until I tried your Sarsaparilla. If I continue to take it until the water is all removed from my feet and ankles I will get well. I want you to send me some more by the next boat, by Mr Willcox. Can I find words to tell you how much I am indebted to you? No, I cannot. When physicians failed to help, and friends gave me up to die it seemed that the Lord put it into the heart of strangers to find out a remedy and send it to me before the lamp went out. The scripture saith, "He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord, and that which he hath given will pay him again.

I must close my letter by subscribing myself your friend ASENATH M PHILLIPS

HAVE BEEN CLOTHED AT THIS POPULAR

Tailoring Establishment.

THE reasons why Clothing can be sold at this Establishment so much LOWER than at any other places are these

First—Our retail sales are about ten times the amount of any other establishment in Boston.

Second—We do a sole Cash Business, consequently the purchaser does not have to pay for the defaulting debtor's clothes, and all the genteel class of trade that have been in the habit of ordering their clothes up town, and their bill sent once or twice a year, have found that they can make a SAVING OF ABOUT ONE HALF, by cash down, at OAK HALL and can get a garment made in as good style, or a little better

If I were to judge by some samples worn, which sit upon 'the human form divine' as though Nature's journeymen had made them, AND NOT MADE THEM WELL," so that with all this immense trade of Custom Work, and a large quantity sold daily ready-made, I am enabled to sell at Extra low Price.

All our custom work is made by Journeymen Tailors, and we employ none other than the

MOST SCIENTIFIC CUTTERS

☞ To give the public an idea of the extent of my business, I will merely state that I have at this time in my employ

6 Fashionable Cutters
3 Trimmers,
1 Cashier and Book keeper;
1 Paymaster;
15 Salesmen,
1 Express and Driver;
3 Runners,
50 Journeymen expressly for our nice custom work and the astonishing number of 2000 Operatives, on thin work, adapted for Spring and Summer

☞ Wholesale dealers will find at this establishment every description of

Ready-Made Clothing,
IN ANY QUANTITY.

☞ Gentlemen will recollect we ask no more at retail, and that we have an endless variety of

RICH PIECE GOODS,
ALWAYS ON HAND,

which will be made to measure in that style of elegance for which this establishment has become so celebrated

It is not to a town, or city, or a state,
Or a nation, that we our addresses confine,
All our plans are mature, and our efforts are great,
O'er all climes of the earth without rival to shine!

To all nations we speak! for all nations we toil!
And we look for support in this glorious strife,
We resolve that no obstacle ever shall foil
The grand aim of our heart, while we linger in life!

We discard all the snares and the frauds of the trade
We lift up the standard of spotless reform,
And we trust that so long as that standard's displayed,
The smile of the world will defend from the storm.
We repose in the public a confidence strong,
And believe that they will not neglect our endeavor;
The success we have met has encouraged us long,
And we thank and assure them 'we'll merit it ever'

Mr. Clay on Duelling.

It will be recollected that a letter was received from Mr Clay by a gentleman in this city a few days since on the subject of duelling, the substance of which appeared in our columns—About the same time a long and somewhat irritating letter was sent to Mr Clay by a number of citizens of Fayette county, Penn, to which he replied as follows

ASHLAND, Aug 1, 1844

Gentlemen,—I duly received your letter of the 15th ultimo, on the subject of duelling, and I appreciate fully the friendly, pious and patriotic motives which prompted you to address it to me Pernicious as the practice undoubtedly is, I hope you will excuse me when I say that there are other questions, in our public affairs, of much higher and more general importance The victims or votaries of that practice are but few in number and bear no comparison with the immense number of sufferers from the rejection of wise measures of national policy, or the adoption of those of an opposite character

I expressed in strong terms of condemnation my opinion against duelling, in a letter which I addressed to my constituents, in March, 1824, which is to be found in the published collection of my speeches Again, within a few years past, I gave evidence of my strong disapprobation of it, by voting in the United States Senate, for the bill for suppressing duelling in the District of Columbia

With these proofs of my sentiments, I think, gentlemen, you ought to be satisfied But you ask me whether if I were challenged to fight a duel, I would reject the invitation Considering my age, which is now past 67, I feel that I should expose myself to ridicule if I were to proclaim whether I would or would not fight as duel It is certainly one of the most unlikely events that can possibly be imagined, AND I CAN NOT CONCEIVE A CASE IN WHICH I SHOULD BE PROVOKED OR TEMPTED TO GO INTO THE FIELD OF COMBAT But as I cannot foresee all the contingencies which may possibly arise in the short remnant of my life, and for the reason which I have already stated, of avoiding any exposure of myself to ridicule, I cannot reconcile it to my sense of propriety to make a declaration one way or the other

You have, gentlemen, done me some, but not full justice in respect to the affair of the lamented Cilley When I first obtained any knowledge of his difficulty with Mr Graves, I did not think there was the smallest occasion for a combat between them I believed, from the first, that the matter would be amicably accommodated, to that end all my exertions were directed I did not know that it was not accommodated until the day when, and after the parties went out to fight On that day I was confined to my room, by illness, and it was altogether accidental that I obtained information that the parties had gone out But I was neither informed as to the place nor the hour of meeting Contrary to the impression which you entertain, I did advise the employment of the police to arrest the parties and to prevent the duel The constables went out in search of them, but, like myself, being ignorant of the time and place of their meeting, they mistook the route, and failed in the accomplishment of the object If you would read attentively the whole of my correspondence with Mr Wise, to which you have referred, you will find that it sustains the preceding statement

I am, gentlemen, with great respect.
Your friend and obedient serv't,
H CLAY

Messrs Alex Plummer, Wm Campbell, Eli Cope, John Darr, Jos Darr, Bell Smith, Amos Smith, Eli H McClelland, Robert Cunningham, Jas Finley, John Boy, Mr P Smith, Wm Brookens, and E Newlon, &c &c

It may be proper to remark here even by repetition that in the year 1838, a bill was introduced into Congress for the suppression of duelling in the District of Columbia Mr Clay supported and voted for this bill, and thus addressed the Senate on this subject, as may be found in the record of debates

Mr Clay, of Kentucky, said that he had taken no part heretofore in the debate to which this bill had given rise, but his silence did not proceed from any indifference which he felt to the laudable object which the Senator from Vermont (Mr Prentice) proposed to accomplish by its introduction No man would rejoice more sincerely than he should, in witnessing the absolute suppression, forever, of the unjustifiable practice which the bill denounces and seeks to discountenance But he (Mr C) thought that the great object of legislation, on this subject, should be directed to the correction and purification of public opinion In sections of the Union, where the practice was not tolerated, it was public opinion that kept it down, by discouraging a resort to private combat to avenge or settle personal injuries There it was no disgrace to decline such a combat. The man who should decline it was more, certainly not less, respected than if he had engaged in it But it was otherwise in those sections where the practice prevailed In these, the man that fights a duel acts under the constraint of public opinion, which brands him with cowardice and dishonor if he does not resent, with spirit, a personal insult or wrong There the alternative presented to a person of honor and of nice sensibility is, whether he shall live, covered with disgrace, an object of reproach, scorn and contempt, or encounter the hazard of death, without dishonor But few honorable and high spirited men were resolute enough to avoid the contest. Public opinion, which exacts the sacrifice is as censurable as those who fall victims or conform to its stern commands It was which public opinion should be rectified in this respect, that we might expect to see the abandonment of a practice which was contrary to humanity, abhorrent to reason, and condemned by our religion In the mean time, it is the duty of the legislator to exert all his authority to bring about this desirable state of things And he (Mr C) should vote, with pleasure, for the passage of the bill before the Senate, under the anxious hope that being the deliberate expression of the judgement of Congress, it may contribute to enlighten the public mind, and that, if it should not totally eradicate, it may tend materially to diminish, a practice which all ought to unite in completely destroying

Notwithstanding all this the "Liberty party" papers attempt to make it appear that Mr Clay is the friend and advocate of duelling The Gazette of Saturday promises to give to day the preceding letter of Mr Clay with comments in proof that he has no objection to fighting a duel under certain, at present, unforeseen circumstances Really the spirit of dark and direful malice seems to have taken absolute possession of some minds and to be hurrying them in hot haste to the utterance of the most atrocious calumnies and falsehoods If this is elevating politics to the character of a higher moral and religious sentiment, then we have new reasons for desiring an entire separation of them

A Living Monster.

The Philadelphia Native American says—"We have been put in possession of the particulars of the birth of the most singular and remarkable object of the human species, which has been seen in this country, or perhaps in the world"

The father of the monster told the American's informant that he had hoped the fact would not come to the ears of the community Proceeding to the back of the room which was shaded and darkened by damask curtains, he found the nurse, who wished to know if he were desirous of seeing the baby? and suiting the action to the word, drew the cradle round to the light and took from over it a quilt, and exhibited to his view, he said, one of the most hideous and singular specimens of the human species which we ever recollected hearing or reading of The head in shape and dimensions, resembled more that of a large bull-frog, than any other quadruped or biped, being long and flat and covered with short, thick, soft, black down The mouth when open, is sufficiently large to take in a small sized egg The tongue appeared to be forked, and when fretting in the least, struck out like that of a serpent The eyes, which were of a reddish cast, were constantly in motion, rolling from side to side The throttle he described as enormous in size, and what would choke an ordinary child, this one swallowed with ease and indifference

It is of the male gender, and in other respects resembles ordinary children, with the exception of one foot which is as broad as long, and may be considered as cloven When out of humor, instead of crying naturally, it sets up the most pitiful howl imaginable, and what is very remarkable, the child, he was informed by the nurse, has never shed a tear Its food is generally boiled milk, sweetened with sugar—the mother not desiring to suckle it Its appetite is always craving, and it swallows every thing given to it with avidity It eats very readily a saucer of its usual food at a time It has been pronounced by scientific gentlemen who examined it, as the greatest phenomenon in nature, and the greatest wonder of the age A full account of it would, ere this, have been published, but it was prevented by the father, who was tenacious and immovable on the point—This account, it is said, gives but a very faint idea of the child, as it was given by a gentleman who was a mere casual visitor, and made no other examination than was afforded by a few minutes view while it lay in the cradle

A Rich Scene at the Sulpher Springs.

A correspondent of the Charleston (Va) Republican, describes, the following curious incident as having occurred at the Red Sulpher Springs in Virginia

"James M Mason, of Winchester, in a political speech the other day, at the Red Sulpher, stated that it was a fact well known in Washington that when the Texas Treaty was first sent to the Senate there were 35 or 36 Senators in favor of its ratification But on the publication of the dictator Clay's letter disapproving of annexation, 15 Senators turned right about at his word of command and went against the treaty—and only 18 Senators could be found to sustain the treaty on the final vote of ratification At this moment, the Hon Henry Johnson U S, Senator from Louisiana who, it appears, was unknown to the gentleman from Winchester rose and demanded the speaker's authority Mr M was quite dumbfounded Mr Johnson went on to state that he was a member of the Senate, and that upon his responsibility as a Senator, and a man of honor he declared that every Senator who had voted against the treaty had determined so to do, before the appearance of Mr. Clay's or Mr Van Buren's letter Mr Mason acknowledged that he made the statement upon common rumor—he was happy to be corrected by the honorable gentleman He then retired from the stand"

Lumber

It is said by those who are engaged in the business, that there are as many laths shipped this year to New York from the St John river and Nova Scotia as there are from this river—It is also a fact that hundreds of thousands of boards are now going into the Boston and Southern markets from Nova Scotia

Suppose we had a good smart protective duty upon these articles—enough to exclude British lumber from our markets,—would the people of Calais be the sufferers Adding a dollar or two to the price of every thousand of lumber that goes out of this river—would they like it?

Colonel Polk is opposed to a protective Tariff, and Mr Clay is in favor of one Who comes nearest, in his views, to the wishes of the people of Calais upon this point?

Do we want a protective duty on lumber or not? If we do shall we vote for a man who is in favor of such a duty or one who is opposed to it?—Calais Advertiser

Slavery.

If I could only be instrumental in eradicating this deep stain upon the character of our country, I would not exchange the proud satisfaction I should enjoy, for the honor of all the triumphs ever decreed to the most successful conqueror—Henry Clay.

The New York Tribune says—Bennet's Herald, it may be well to inform our friends everywhere, who hear of it but do not see it is sold out body and gizzard, to the Locofocos for the campaign and is busy fabricating returns and falsifying issues to suit its new vocation.

Although modern refinement has made lady ship to consist so much of romantic idleness of luxurious dissipation, let the factory girl disregard not the affected contumely of such and learn and that the loom was the employment of the [illegible] faithful Penelope and other royal dames of old

The Election is at Hand.

On Monday the ninth of September the people of Maine will be called upon to exercise one of the most important duties, and the most precious rights of Freemen selected by the Whigs are men of intelligence of right political views, of sound and honest purposes and who will labor to promote in the highest degree the best interests of the country and of the people.

The Candidates

Edward Robinson

is a self made man. He has repeatedly received the strongest tokens of the confidence of his fellow citizens and has discharged with signal ability the various duties of the public stations to which he has been called He has an active and well disciplined mind and an honest heart. His sympathies are with the mass of the people in the great ocean—like middle interest. He is a practical man, acquainted with the practical operations and effects of public laws His election would be an honor to the State and an encouragement to young men, though commencing life poor, to cultivate their powers and to make themselves qualified for any station. His administration of affairs would be honest, enlightened, beneficial and honorable: His election may be effected if the Whigs do their whole duty.

The time is short and what is to be done must be done speedily.—Work then fellow whigs and fellow citizens, work until the election for a good cause and good men.

Abraham Sanborn,

the candidate for Congress from this district is widely and well known by the people in all parts of the district. And wherever he is known he is honored and respected for his signal ability, energy of character and purity of life. He has long and closely observed the course of public affairs, and is, in every sense, eminently qualified to represent this district with honor to himself and benefit to his constituents There should be a generous and whole hearted enthusiasm for his election by the whole people he would represent and especially by all the true hearted friends of the Whig policy and measures.

The Senatorial Ticket

is one that reflects the highest credit upon those who selected it. The men nominated are able, and faithful, and the legislation they will approve will be such as will advance the honor of the state and the prosperity of the people. They are selected, wisely and well, from the three great pursuits of life. One is a trader, one a Mechanic and are a Farmer, and each stands at the head in intelligence and skill in his respective pursuit. These are practical men, who understand the wants of the community and will bring their best powers to have those wants adequately and honestly supplied so far as legislation is concerned.

The candidates for the county officers are men in whom the whole community, of what ever party, have the fullest confidence.

Now to the Work,

good friends, and by ardent efforts in a good cause success will attend the cause, and the candidates named will be elected to discharge with honor the duties of their respective offices.

☞ The loco leaders in their addresses to the public, so far as we have had opportunity to observe or can learn, seek for some blind side, some lurking prejudice, some weak point that they may reach, instead of making a manly appeal to the judgment and enlightened reason of their hearers. Thus Mr Rantoul at the City Hall on Thursday evening in addressing consumers of Salt portrayed in glowing colors the enormous tax in the increased price they paid on Salt on account of the duty. Subsequently, in speaking of the commercial interests he groaned in hypocritical agony that Salt brought to this country only as ballast sold for less than the duty on account of home competition. To the consumer of cotton shirting he made a pathetic address on the high per centage of the cruel tax he paid.—He afterwards declared to the commercial man that these cottons were cheaper here than any market in the world and if it was not for the tariff he could supply all the markets in the world! The better way would be for Mr Rantoul and all his political brethren to take one class at a time instead of taking them together, and thus save themselves such palpable and absurd contradictions. Mr Rantoul may make a low estimate of the intelligence of the people of Maine but we can assure him there were at least fifty Whigs who listened to his address in this city, many of them mechanics, who could have refuted his arguments upon the spot. If this is the best that Massachusetts locos can do they had better keep their spouters at home.

☞ Some fellow who signs his name C. C. Cone, stated in the Gazette of Friday that Hon George Evans, in his recent speech in this city prayed quite fervently and very vociferously to God that no friend of Liberty may ever enter the councils of the nation. The thing is incredible. The statement is not true. Whoever this Cone may be he has been misinformed, or labors under a mistake or purposely means to misrepresent Mr Evans by a false statement. We confess ourselves astonished at the multiplied efforts which daily appear to lie down the Whigs. It seems as though all the powers of darkness had combined for this purpose, but combined we believe in vain.

☞ The New York Tribune gives a glowing account of the Whig mass meeting at albany New York and the admirable speech of Daniel Webster.

Ordination.

Mr Stephen Hayes, was on Thursday, 29th inst, ordained at Frankfort, Maine, as Pastor of the Congregational Church and Society, in that place.

The exercises of the occasion were as follows:

Invocation and reading the Scriptures, by Rev Isaac Rogers, of Farmington.

Introductory Prayer, by Rev Wm. J. Breed, of Bucksport.

Sermon, by Rev. Prof. Geo. Shepard, Theological Seminary, Bangor—MAT. 13 : 52.

Consecrating Prayer, by Rev. Jotham Sewall, Chesterville.

Charge to the Pastor, by Rev John Perham, Industry

Right hand of fellowship, by Rev C. G. Cutler, Belfast.

Address to the Church and People, by Rev S. Thurston, West Prospect.

Concluding Prayer, by Rev Luther Wiswell, Brook's.

Benediction, by the Pastor.

Anthems and Hymns, by the Choir, were interspersed.

☞ There were several amusing matters connected with the proceedings of the loco delegation from this city to the Belfast mass meeting. While at Belfast one of the party procured a few gallons of cheap rum and gin and while returning to the city in the Jefferson, he set up a three center bar and sold out his entire stock. It is worthy of notice that as soon as the last glass of the liquor was disposed of one of the number manifested a great deal of sweat and stopped the business!

☞ The New York papers give an account of the death of a young woman named Martha K. Rugg, a resident of Lancaster Mass. by falling from the rock near the falls of the Niagara a few days since.

When near the Museum, walking near the brink of the precipice, she remarked, "I will pluck that shrub." She attempted it, and stooping forward to do so, lost her balance, and crying out "save me," she was instantly lost to sight. Several persons who saw her fall, or heard her cry, ran down the stairs, a short distance from the spot, and were soon by her side.

Every effort was made to restore her but the internal injury was so great as to cause her death. Mr Long with whom she was in company is in a very distressed state of mind at the melancholy event.

Thurston's Wholesale Lying about the Whigs and the Tariff.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier :

As it is a part of my duty, as the Ellsworth correspondent to the Whig, to keep you advised of political movements in this quarter, I will give you some account of a loco speech delivered yesterday to the sham democracy of this region by that silk stocking demagogue—that impudent, reckless Thurston, who dare not meet Mr. Hatch after having challenged the whole Whig party.—This fellow spoke, or rather ranted, about three hours, in a low, mean, demagogue endeavor to excite the poor against the rich. It was a tissue of bold, reckless, impudent falsehood, in the face of well known evidence to the contrary. The following are specimens :

1st. That the Whig party in 1840, promised the laboring men that if Harrison came in, they would get two dollars a day and roast beef.

2d. That though lumber and manufactures had risen, the capitalists in these branches had cut down the wages of the operatives, and that the prices of labor in these establishments, were now lower than before the passage of the Tariff.

3d. That the prices of goods had been enormously advanced by the Tariff—that a poor laboring girl had to pay 4 cents per yard more upon low priced calico, (this rise from 1 to 2 cents); the poor man 51 per cent (it is only about 25) duty upon molasses; 71 per cent (it is only about from 50 to 62) on his brown sugar; 137 per cent (it is only 30) upon his logging chain—and 200 and 300 per cent upon his shirts, while the rich nabob, aristocrats, paid but 12 per cent (it is 40 cents per gallon) upon champaign wine. And while the poor, hard-working, democrats were thus taxed on the necessaries, the rich capitalists, the American Manufacturers, the Barings and others, were making upon their stocks, 21, 30 and even 35 per cent, (it is from 8½ to 9 per cent). Again that the whig party, and among them Mr. Adams, Mr. Crittenden, Mr. Johnson and others (an infamous lie) had made Reports in both Houses of Congress, recommending that the General Government assume the debts of the individual States!!

This dozen falsehoods may be taken as a fair specimen of the bold, reckless and base assertions of this unprincipled demagogue—and all intelligent men know them to be clear sheer falsehoods, wholly unworthy of an educated man, making any kind of pretensions to truth, candor, and respectability. Nor was the vile reptile contented with such general slanders as these, but he went on to abuse Mr. Evans, Mr. Clay and other distinguished statesmen "whose shoe latchet he is not worthy to unloose." But after all his foolish and false assertions about the Whig party and the Whig tariff, he never defined what kind of a tariff his Tory party would give the country. Said nothing about the Sub Treasury, Distribution, Executive Power, Slavery, Annexation of Texas, a war with Mexico, and the payment of unknown millions of Texan debts, to the iniquitous side of which, Polk, Dallas and their party, are all pledged.

He had plenty of time for all the false, demagogue slang of the day, but none to devote to the consideration of such grave and momentous interests as these,—no time to enter upon a discussion of the subjects the tory side of which he knew he could not sustain; all these vital matters, that were weak and sore places to his party, and did not admit of successful mystification, he avoided. He had no time for these great and solemn interests. No time to inform his audience that Mr. Appleton, a merchant and manufacturer of Boston, and who helped frame the present tariff, had shown that the average dividends of all the Cotton Factories in Lowell, and which are known to be the most profitable in the country, for the last seven years, instead of being 30 or 35 per cent, have been but 8½ to 9 per cent. He did not tell the people that nearly every article upon which duties were lain by the last Tariff Act have since fallen, and are now lower than they were before, excepting some species of cotton goods and a few other articles.

Nor did this patriotic lecturer tell the people that the raw material of cotton had risen within the last year from 6 to 9½ cents per pound, and as a necessary consequence the manufactured article must rise also. Nor that the same kind of sheetings which have risen from 6½ to 8½ cts. per yard in the United States, have risen one third more in England, than here. No, nothing of this kind would he communicate to the people—because this would show that it could not be the tariff, that had produced all this rise, and would not answer his humbug purpose.

Thurston, undertook to defend Geo. M. Dallas for his former advocacy of that "Federal Monster," a United States Bank—and falsely asserted that he acted under instructions from his constituents. But he did not inform his audience that the general resolutions which he called instructions to Mr. Dallas, came not from a "Federal Corporation," but from the pure "democratic" Legislature of Democratic Pennsylvania, requiring it he pleases, this distinguished late Democrat to speak and vote in favor of a National Bank—that "unconstitutional," "Federal Monster," that "horrible curse upon the country"!!

Upon the whole, this Mr. Thurston, though using a little better language, is just about such another, ranting, vulgar, reckless fellow, as Shepherd Cary—and exhibits about the same contempt of truth and fairness. The whole of his speech was destitute of open, fair and manly argument—portions of it were artful appeals to the prejudice of the ignorant, accompanied by the grossest falsehoods and demagogue slang—It was food for but a few of the most reckless and degraded, while the more respectable of his own party were quite ashamed of him. We have heard of several locos who were so dissatisfied that they left the house before the speaker was half through. So much for a desperate effort to save a desperate sinking cause. At the coming elections the people will take care of all such chaps. LEONIDAS.

Ellsworth, Aug. 27.

From the Kennebec Journal.

Edward Robinson.

MESSRS. SEVERANCE & DORR :—Having formerly resided in the same town with the Whig candidate for Governor, the question is not unfrequently put to me, who is EDWARD ROBINSON? Having just now a few leisure moments, I have thought I could not spend them to better advantage, than in giving through your columns an answer, which, so far as I possess any information, shall suffice for all enquirers.

I do not propose to give a biography of the man for, even if I possessed the materials, I certainly do not the qualifications necessary for such an undertaking. It has been wisely said, and it wisely then truly—that the life of every man, if accurately delineated, would not only be of deep interest, but of great utility. Whatever our varying creeds or our different situations in life "we have all one human heart."—In the main we are governed by like impulses, swayed by like motives. It is not upon a stricken field that the fiercest conflicts are waged.—He who has grappled successfully with gaunt poverty—who never strong temptations has controlled his own fierce passions and maintained the whiteness of his soul, is better entitled to praise than the laureled hero who has conquered kingdoms. To search for the secret springs of action which govern and guide men, requires the discrimination and power of analysis of a master mind. Almost every one fancies he can write a biography, and yet no kind of composition is more difficult.

But for a brief sketch of EDWARD ROBINSON. He was born in Cushing, in the County of Lincoln; and is now 48 years old. Like most New Englanders of his age, he had no advantages for an education, other than those derived from our invaluable system of common schools. He remained at home rendering all the assistance on his father's farm to be expected from a boy, until his 13th year, when he shipped as cook on board a coasting vessel, which was engaged in transporting wood from Thomaston to Boston. He served on board several vessels, in the same capacity, at very small wages.—At an early age it seemed to be a settled purpose with him not to eat the bread of idleness.—At one time, when paid off in Boston, finding no employment on board any vessel, he bought a saw and sawhorse and sawed wood by the cord in that city.

Qualities like his could not long go unrewarded. From being upon the lowest, a few years saw him upon the topmost round of the ladder in his profession. He left the galley for the forecastle, the forecastle for the cabin, and in 1825 was in command of the ship Georges, which he sailed with great profit to himself and the owners. After some years had thus been spent as a shipmaster, in 1830 he opened a store in Thomaston, and has since been engaged in mercantile business at that place.

Although he has never been a noisy politician, he has ever been a decided one. The people of his own County and of the State at large, have honored him with important trusts. In 1836, and 37 he was elected to the State Senate. In 1838, he was the candidate from Lincoln Congressional district to complete the term of the Hon. Jona. Cilley, who met with so sad a fate at Washington. The opposing candidate was John D. McCrate. No means were spared to defeat Mr Robinson. The most wanton charges were made against him. The Whigs were accused of having plotted, through the known and acknowledged leaders, the destruction of Mr Cilley. The district was flooded with pamphlets calculated to prejudice the minds of the voters. But falsehood and slander were in vain. He was returned by a triumphant majority.

In the ever memorable campaign of 1840, which showed so conclusively that the people held the power in their own hands and would hold to a strict account faithless officers, Mr ROBINSON was one of the electors who gave the vote of Maine to Wm. Henry Harrison and John Tyler.

But how has he discharged the public trusts confided to him? In a manner which has always met the hearty approbation of his constituents—Those associated with him in the halls of legislation have always spoken of him as a sound and efficient business man, one whose opinions were entitled to great weight, whose influence was always felt, and who was well fitted to represent one of the most commercial counties in the United States.

He is again before the people—who that was at Augusta, last June, and witnessed the exultation with which the name of EDWARD ROBINSON was received by the largest and most enthusiastic convention ever held in this State, did not deem the nomination a proud compliment to the man! Let it be our duty as Whigs to perfect the action of that convention.

Nobler ends were never battled for, than those for which the Whig party is now contending — So correct are our principles, that our opponents themselves, throughout the most of New England and of the Middle States, dare not openly oppose them. Who more worthy than our Gubernatorial candidate to champion us on to victory over those, who, by their public acts, have done so much to make and keep our State poor, and who secretly, are so hostile to the protection of American Industry! A self made man, he has warm and geneaous sympathies with his fellow man. In him are illustrated the advantages of our institutions, and the value of enterprise and integrity With a dignity, open as day, with a heart warm and true those who know him best, love him most

Give him, then, a generous and hearty support. Let the people place upon the quarter deck of the ship of State, a man who is part and parcel of them—who, instead of coming in at the cabin windows, has eaten his junk in the forecastle, and worked his way aft in shipshape fashion. LINCOLN.
